MARCH MEETING

Submitted by Sherry Amen

The March 18th meeting was held at Favazza's on the Hill. Favazza's is a great restaurant on the list of "must do" for anyone visiting St. Louis and very popular with all of St. Louis!

The speaker was Robin Bach, a certified black belt nia instructor. Robin's "talk" included more than talking. She had our group actually MOVE! (Attendees had been asked to wear loose fitting clothes – and movement was in order after a Favazza's meal!) After sharing her background and explaining what nia is, Robin led the group in doing some nia moves! We started by walking and right away she laughed and said she could tell we were accountants because even our walking was in a very orderly fashion – following along in a line! Then she had us do some nia moves which included stretching and aerobic movements. Interestingly enough, the wall dividing our group from the rest of the restaurant was glass and the other people in the restaurant must have wished they were in with us! Robin even gave some prizes which included free introductory classes. Some of our group already take classes and work with Robin and thoroughly enjoy her!
